DYNAMITE, RADIO GRABBED BY FBI ON WEST COAST

Large Caches Of Hidden Explosives Taken Near Bonneville Dam

AMMUNITION IS FOUND

More Than 3,200 Japanese Aliens Under Arrest; Films Confiscated

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—FBI agents systematically searching Japanese property on the west coast uncovered large caches of dynamite near the Bonneville dam in Oregon and at the powerful naval radio station on Bainbridge island in the state of Washington, it was revealed today.

More than 1,000 pieces of fireworks, including sky rockets and Roman candles that could be used to signal Japanese planes in event of an air raid on the Pacific coast, also have been confiscated, it also was disclosed.

In addition, more than 80,000 rounds of ammunition have been taken away from the Japanese residents in Pacific coast states. Significantly, most of the seizures were made after Attorney General Francis Biddle had ordered all enemy aliens to surrender such equipment at police stations.

3,250 Under Arrest

A survey of the results of the FBI activities undertaken after Attorney General Francis Biddle reported yesterday that 3,250 Japanese aliens had been apprehended since war broke out, also showed that two short wave radio sending sets and 207 short wave receivers capable of receiving messages from Japanese-mandated islands in the Pacific have been found. Altogether 5,151 enemy aliens—Japs, Italians and Germans—have been rounded up.

Japanese also were found in possession of two rolls of film showing American battleships and fortifications on the Pacific coast.

The careful compilation of FBI seizures, based on reports of individual raids announced at various times throughout the country, showed that 923 sticks of dynamite, 1,894 feet of dynamite fuse, and 1,827 dynamite caps had been hidden away by Nipponese but were uncovered by the federal agents.

AUTOMOBILE DEALERS GET CAR RATIONING PAPERS

Applications for authorization to purchase new passenger automobiles were being mailed to the local rationing boards Tuesday by the county rationing council. Automobile dealers in Pickaway county have been allotted 30 new cars during March, April and May, according to Courtney Burton, Ohio civilian defense council director.

Malcolm Shupe, 33, Suffers From Six Fractured Ribs

CAR HITS ENGINE

High Street Is Scene Of Accident At 10:20 a. m.

Malcolm Shupe, 33, of Laurelville, employe of the Circleville office of the Ohio Fuel Gas company, narrowly escaped death at 10:20 a. m. Thursday when he drove a company truck into a Norfolk and Western locomotive at the West High street grade crossing.

Shupe was taken to Berger hospital in the Rinehart ambulance, and hospital attaches said during the afternoon that he was resting well although painfully hurt. An x-ray disclosed six rib fractures on his right side. He has lacerations on his face and head, and numerous bruises.

Shupe had gone to Fox Post-office Thursday morning on company business and was returning to the Circleville office when the accident happened. He was riding alone. The time freight, heading toward Columbus on the west-bound Norfolk and Western main line, had passed the Court street tower at 10:18. Patrolman Alva Shasteen said the engineer was Sam Miller; conductor, L. R. Buck, fireman, William Collins, brakeman, John Neff, and flagman Frank Schlarf of Columbus. Witnesses said that Shupe apparently did not see the train. His truck, which was almost a total wreck, struck the locomotive just behind the pilot. The truck was dragged 105 feet.

Shasteen said the accident was witnessed by Donald Hildenbrand, Pickaway township; Ned Waple, Island road, and Mrs. W. C. McDaniel, West High street.

Shupe is the son of Mrs. G. F. Shupe of Laurelville. He has been an employe of the local Gas company office since March, 1940, and is widely known throughout the county, having officiated in numerous townships during the basketball season. He has been scheduled for transfer from the local office to the Gas company offices in Logan, the transfer being scheduled sometime in March.

Dan McClain, Gas company manager, said that several trucks which were on the Dodge truck were damaged.

The injured man is under the care of Dr. Lloyd Jones.

DRAFT MAY NOT TAKE 20-44 MEN PRIOR TO MAY

COLUMBUS, Feb. 26 — The nation's armed forces are not likely to call any men from the third draft registration of February 16 until May at least, state Selective Service headquarters disclosed today.

The men must be given their questionnaires and serial numbers and then classified, it was explained.

Serial numbers will be placed on registration cards by local boards on March 9 and will begin with T-1, T-2 and so on. At the lottery drawing in Washington on March 17, the numbers placed in the bowl will begin with 10,001.

Only a specific request from the armed forces for third registration men will result in their speedy call, it was said.

TENSION BETWEEN U. S., VICHY SHOWS INCREASE

LONDON, Feb. 26—A Reuters (British) dispatch from Berne, Switzerland, said today that continued tension in Washington-Vichy relations was reported by travelers today.

The dispatch said that at Vichy it is an open secret that heavy shipments of materials, notably oil and trucks, have been sent from France to North Africa for the axis forces headed by Nazi Gen. Erwin Rommel in Libya.

"Invader" Brings Shell Shower Over Los Angeles

The black sky over metropolitan Los Angeles is pierced by searchlights (top photo) as anti-aircraft gunners send up a shower of shell seeking the range of an unidentified craft which was reported flying over the city. An unexploded anti-aircraft shell is pictured (lower left) being dug from the ground by a member of the Army's demolition squad. At right, a soldier holds a sign that was placed in areas where unexploded shells were reported to have fallen.

Freight Train Hits Bus, Kills Six Student Pilots

Twenty-five Other Youths In Training At Enid, Oklahoma, School Hurt Critically

ENID, Okla., Feb. 26 — Six Army student pilots were killed and 25 other students and a civilian were critically injured when the bus in which they were riding was struck by a Rock Island freight train near the Enid Army flying school early today.

The dead were: Private Herbert J. Taylor, Lake Kerr, Fla.; Private Eugene L. Underwood, Rogersville, Pa.; Sergeant Eugene J. Sanders, Yokum, Texas;

Private Vernon E. Ohnstad, Georgetown, Minn.; Sergeant Robert W. Walker, Bay City, Texas;

Private Cyril J. Minarcik, of Illinois.

According to the Oklahoma highway patrol two buses loaded with the student fliers were returning to the air base after an evening spent in Enid. The first bus crossed the tracks safely, when the second bus, driven by a civilian operator, apparently was blinded by falling snow and drove directly into the path of a north-bound Rock Island freight train.

There were 31 students and the driver in the bus.

Highway patrolmen said the train struck the rear end of the bus, whipping it around and scattering the occupants for many yards. All available ambulances were sent from Enid, and many of the injured were taken in private cars to Enid.

At a hospital where the injured were being treated, attendants said all of the trainees were critically injured, and several are not expected to live.

FEMININE FORM BECOMING NEW WAR CASUALTY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—The "stream-lined" figure was in danger of becoming a war casualty today as the WPB banned the use of rubber in corsets, girdles, brassieres and other foundation garments.

Only the ingenuity of the manufacturers can now come to the rescue of the feminine form.

R. R. Guthrie, chief of the WPB textile branch, said that every effort will be made to make available to the industry other materials with which to provide for essential foundation garments.

It was reported that corset manufacturers are experimenting with the possibility of using tightly knitted material as a substitute for the elastic portion of a "two-way stretch."

NONE OR FIFTY?: DEBATE RAGING OVER JAP PLANE

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 26 — It was like the eve of a big election after a hotly-contested campaign in Los Angeles and surrounding communities today as yesterday morning's spectacular anti-aircraft barrage gave way to a barrage of words.

The event itself, the barrage and all that went with it, slipped into the background as the populace engaged in a prolonged debate as to who was right—Secretary Knox or the western defense command at San Francisco.

(Secretary of the Navy Knox said in Washington the whole thing was a "false alarm" and that his information indicated there had been no enemy planes over the west coast.)

There were those who thoroughly agreed with the secretary's assertion that, on the basis of information he had, there were no planes. They saw no planes and they were convinced that it was a false alarm. In support of their stand, they cited the western defense command's statement that:

Washington Has 'Mystery' Air Raid Alert, But Who Sent It Goes Unanswered

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26 — Washington had a new "mystery" today as the result of an air raid "alert" which was flashed over the district police radio alarm system early this morning.

The police flashed the alert at 1:31 a. m. and the all clear at 1:46 a. m., but defense and Army authorities declared that it was a "false alarm."

Police officials first said that the warning came from air headquarters at Mitchel Field, L. I. When officers at Mitchel field declared that no such warning had been sent out, the police then said that it came "from the Army,"

CARRIER BOYS DISPOSE OF $12,100,000 In U. S. BONDS AND STAMPS

NEW YORK, Feb. 26—Newspaper carrier boys have sold more than $12,100,000 worth of ten-cent defense saving stamps, Louis Livingston of the U. S. treasury department revealed today.

Livingston said that 125,000 carrier boys on 794 newspapers have sold 121,000,000 of the ten-cent stamps and are continuing to sell them at the rate of 13,000,000 a week.

SERVICE BOARDS ASKED TO STUDY FARM QUESTION

"Every Consideration" To Be Given Young Men Needed In Agriculture

Draft boards were advised Thursday to give every consideration for deferment to young men needed in production of food on farms.

Following the announcement, the Pickaway county draft board reported that it would continue its policy of deferring "key men" on farms. That policy in the past has granted deferment to farm boys strictly essential to operation and maintenance of farms. It has not given deferment to farm laborers.

The notice that local boards should be particular about farm deferments came from Col. Chester W. Goble, state director of Selective Service. It followed a long conference with state farm leaders who had taken up the issue of a farm labor shortage.

Colonel Goble told the farm leaders that where young men were drafted from the farms the cases were on the border-line or involved men who held both industrial and farm jobs. Seventy percent of young men who left the farms thereby creating a labor shortage have gone into industry, Goble explained.

At the same time, instructions were received by state headquarters from Brig. General Lewis B. Hershey, national draft director, that a deferment for occupational reasons can be granted only by a local board and all deferments are provisional. The national and not the individual interest must come first, Hershey wrote.

He repeated his warning that occupational deferment is granted only in case of an essential industry, inability to replace the individual, or for positive protection of the national health and safety.

STRIKE HITS STEEL FIRM

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 26—A strike of about 1,000 CIO-Steel Workers organizing committee members today closed down the Labelle works of the Crucible steel company on Pittsburgh's north side. The plant is working exclusively on defense orders.

CANDIDATE FOR CONGRESS TO LIMIT HIS SPEECHES, OR AID RED CROSS DRIVE

CHICAGO, Feb. 26—Denison B. Hull promised today that he will contribute five dollars to the Red Cross for every minute any of his campaign speeches exceed a self-imposed five-minute limit.

Hull is a Republican candidate for congressman-at-large in the April 14 primaries. His father, the late Morton D. Hull, served five terms in Congress.

U. S. Submarines Hit Japanese Convoy In Pacific; Defenders Apply Torch To Rangoon; Russians Encircle Rzhev

BY LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service War Editor

The men of MacArthur slapped the Japanese around on Bataan peninsula today in tune with the rising tide of offensive action which has brought new successes for the United Nations from the China sea to the Russian tundra.

The American-Filipino troops stormed out of their fox-holes like angry hornets, swept forward in a counter-tack and drove the Japanese back at least a couple of miles onto their main positions. The surprise attack was launched all along the line and a number of the Japs' advance positions fell into General Douglas MacArthur's hands although the enemy's main strongholds were not penetrated.

LONDON, Feb. 26—Burning, scorched Rangoon is still in the hands of British military forces, authorities in London declared today.

There was no definite estimate of the amount of ground regained in this astonishing demonstration of MacArthur's ability as a field general, but the official communique said that on the eastern end of the line the Japs withdrew several kilometers. The American equivalent of a kilometer is five eighths of a mile.

Another astonishing revelation was that the Japanese are still being held off on the island of Mindanao where the invaders landed early in the conflict. This disclosure was made in a report from the War department that the Japs have reinforced their invasion forces on Mindanao and that desultory patrol action continues on that island.

But the report from the Philippines was but one of many dispatches that brought new hope to the United Nations.

The most cheering news was the revelation in London that Germany suffered a heavy blow in moving two speedy and powerful battleships and a heavy cruiser from Brest to German ports under aerial bombardment and British naval gunfire recently.

Two Big Ships Crippled

The battleships Scharnhorst and Gneisenau are out of action, crippled for many months to come. One lies drydocked at Kiel, the other at Wilhelmshaven, both subject to future inevitable bombardment by Royal Air Force planes. The third ship that made a temporary escape, the heavy cruiser Prinz Eugen, was probably hit by a torpedo from a British submarine off the Norwegian coast and suffered severe damage.

This heartening disclosure coincided with word of new allied successes in the battle of the Pacific where, nevertheless, the Japanese menace to the Netherlands East Indies and to Australia remains of formidable proportions.

KNOX ADVISES FIRMS IN WEST TO MOVE EAST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—War production officials today considered the suggestion of Secretary of Navy Knox that vital west coast industries be moved to the interior.

Knox expressed the opinion that Pacific coast production plants "gradually must be removed piecemeal, as Britain has done, so we won't have all our eggs in one basket."

"I suspect that's what we will have to do before we get through," the secretary said. He explained that his opinion was "pure speculation."

Knox said that the British found their essential war industries vulnerable to enemy attack and gradually moved them to sections removed from imminent attack.

17 Aviators Reach Safety After Uncharted Flight From Philippines

LONDON, Feb. 26—Gen. Henry Gordon Bennett, who commanded the Australian forces in the battle of Malaya and Singapore, arrived in Batavia after a perilous journey in a Chinese junk, it was reported today.

Escaping from Japanese clutches at Singapore, Gen. Bennett, his aide, Lieut. Gordon Walker, and 15 Australian soldiers sailed their rickety craft to the Dutch island of Sumatra, with only a page torn from an atlas as their chart, according to the report, broadcast by the New Delhi radio. Picked up by an RAF launch, they made a perilous journey to Jambo in southern Sumatra. From that point they were taken in a Dutch automobile to Padang, where they boarded a flying boat which took them to Batavia.

BATAVIA, Feb. 26—The story of 17 American flyers who flew from the Philippines to the Netherlands Indies guided only by a tiny pictorial map on a souvenir cigarette case was told to Aneta news agency today.

The aviators, none of whom had ever made the flight before, made their escape from the Philippines aboard several American flying boats, the exact number of which cannot be revealed.

The cigarette case, memento of a peacetime visit to the Indies, was the possession of the pilot of the leading plane. His plane led the formation during the whole flight.

The map on the case showed only the bare outlines of the main islands, Sumatra, Borneo, Java, Celebes and New Guinea. The position of none of the more than a thousand smaller islands, identification of which has hitherto been considered essential to successful aerial navigation of the immense area, was even indicated.

Veteran Indies flyers united in praise of this outstanding flight.

DILTZ CHARGED WITH BURGLARY IN LANCASTER

Orrin D. Diltz, 19, of 380 Walnut street, was being held by Lancaster police Thursday on a charge of burglary February 11 of the Huddle Motor Supply company, Lancaster.

Diltz is charged with breaking into Huddle's and taking six new tires, two electric clocks, two electric irons, one electric toaster, a mixer and two radios.

Circleville police are holding two new tires which they found last Wednesday and Police Chief William McCrady was in Lancaster Tuesday questioning Diltz. Officers in Lancaster picked up Diltz after Circleville police gave them the license number of his car.

March Tire Quotas To Be Above February's

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26—Nearly 125,000 more passenger and truck tires will be released from the stockpiles next month than were distributed during February, but the average motorist was just as far away as ever today from obtaining new tires for the family auto.

The increased quotas, announced by Price Administrator Leon Henderson, will benefit only eligible users such as ministers, physicians, police and fire vehicles, ambulances, and certain trucks, buses, farm equipment and other heavy vehicles with top ratings.

For "List A" passenger cars, light trucks and motorcycles, the March quotas provide a total of 104,701 new tires and 87,635 new tubes, as compared with 80,754 new tires and 67,616 new tubes for these vehicles in February.

March quotas for "List A" trucks total 256,385 new tires and 288,149 new tubes, against 156,029 new tires and 267,562 new tubes in the previous month.

Retreads Missing
No retread passenger car tires will be available for rationing in March, Henderson said, because the WPB has not authorized the manufacture of passenger car "camelback" during that month.

Retreaded and recapped tires available for rationing next month to eligible trucks, buses, farm equipment and other heavy vehicles total 110,225.

Henderson said that passenger cars on "List B" of eligibility classifications — taxis, or vehicles used for transportation of defense workers, government officials, mail and farm products — will not be able to get retreaded tires for at least another month.

"List B" trucks — hearses, milk trucks and trucks delivering other essential foods — can apply for retreaded or recapped tires between March 1 and March 20, but local rationing boards will not be permitted to issue purchase certificates for "List B" trucks until March 25 and then only if "List A" truck needs have been filled.

Henderson said the increase in March quotas is seasonal and reflects the subsidence of severe weather that makes motor transportation difficult in many regions.

BRIGGS HINTS PRICE CONTROL

Livestock Sale Brings Big Jumps, But Ceiling May Be Invoked Soon

Prices at the Pickaway Livestock association sale were the highest Wednesday they had been in weeks with prices on good quality steers, heifers, hogs and calves unusually active.

There were 280 head of cattle sold during the afternoon. Top prices were quoted at $13.60, but Harry Briggs, manager of the livestock association, said that those prices were paid only for cattle shipped to the east. On the local market, highest prices ranged around $12.75.

The hog market was high with $13.10 being paid for good to choice animals. A total of 565 was sold during the afternoon. Calves brought from $15.60 down, with 64 being sold. There were no good lambs on sale and prices were high at $10.40.

Prices on hogs and beef cattle probably will not go any higher, Manager Briggs predicted since the steady increase in prices has brought the government face to face with the necessity of invoking price controls. Secretary of Agriculture Wickard said that the question of placing ceilings on prices of hogs and cattle, as authorized under the recently enacted price control law, had been discussed with Price Administrator Leon Henderson. Any decision on price fixing, he said, would be made by the price administrator.

MANY AIR BASE WORKERS SEEK ASHVILLE HOME

Community Park Will Be Used For Trailers As Jobs Is Started

OTHER VILLAGE NOTES

Maxene Canter Serves As Instructor For Red Cross First Aid

Now that near all of the once land owners of the Airport territory have removed from the farms to other homes and quarters, action there is steadily on the increase day by day toward converting this farm land into an airport. It was announced here Wednesday by those who are in a position to know all they have to talk about that in this wide out and around community some several hundred families in the near future will be wanting shelter and sustenance, making this their home while the airport is under construction.

Some of these workers have already found locations. Park quarters have been offered those who make their home in house trailers.

So things will much be on the move here for the next few months until the airport job has been completed.

ASHVILLE

Billie Arnold, Marcy, is in Florida vacationing for a couple of weeks. . . Mrs. Orley Barnhart and her daughter, Miss Emma seriously injured Sunday in an auto accident near Lithopolis and now in Mercy hospital, are reported as being slightly improved with a chance for recovery. . .

Defense Council public meeting at the school house Monday evening, March 2, with speaker, Harold Bowers in charge. War films shown. . . Auto license plates will be on sale at Brinker's next Monday and for the duration of the month of March.

The local Parent-Teacher association will hold its monthly meeting at the school building Thursday evening, February 26, program to get under way at 7:30. Musical numbers will be given by the school orchestra and members of the mixed chorus. It is the first appearance of the orchestra for the year at one of these meetings. All the past presidents of the association are to be present. Too, a group of women is to give a playlet. Prof. O. E. Hill, assistant state director of education, is to deliver an address. Since such a splendid program has been arranged for this meeting, the committee who arranged it would be pleased to have a large number of the parents present. This Thursday evening at the school.

ASHVILLE

Supt. C. A. Higley and Harold Bowers of the state department of education attended Monday evening a meeting of the School Masters Club held at Jackson. There were seventy teachers representing seven of the southeastern counties of the state. Questions discussed were teacher shortage, athletics for next year and how to win the war?

Miss Maxene Canter, formerly of Ashville, and now Industrial nurse for Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. at St. Mary's, Ohio, has been appointed as instructor in first aid by the American national Red Cross Headquarters of Washington, D. C.

She is now conducting classes in St. Mary's, New Knoxville, New Bremen and Minster, Ohio. There are 150 persons registered in these courses as a part of the Civilian Defense program of Auglaize county.

Miss Canter was the weekend guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Canter.

HOPELESS LOVE CAUSES YOUTH TO SHOOT GIRL

CHICAGO, Feb. 26—The fatal shooting of a 17-year-old suburban high school beauty, killed in a real-life mystery thriller as a lurid motion picture theatre's screen, reached a Cook county grand jury today.

The jurors were to take testimony with a view toward indictment following a turbulent inquest into the sensational slaying of attractive Dorothy Broz. The girl died of a single bullet fired into her body, police insist, by a 17-year-old Clarence Raymond McDonald, former schoolmate of the victim.

McDonald was held for the grand jury after a coroner's jury heard how he allegedly lured the pretty Morton high school senior to the theatre balcony and shot her in cold blood as she watched a picture from a balcony seat.

Changing an earlier story that he killed his companion without reason, McDonald, according to Assistant State's Attorney Leslie V. Curtis, turned to murder because he thought his romance with Dorothy was hopeless.

Unequalled in Cook county for milling disorder, the inquest was thrown into complete confusion when the accused slayer was attacked by John Broz, an uncle of the girl.

As McDonald was being led past a group of spectators, Broz lurched forward, shoved away a police guard and sent McDonald reeling by a blow to the jaw. Police immediately seized the uncle led him outside the jury room and released him with a warning against such outbursts.

"I socked him," Broz said, "because he sat there cold-bloodedly sneering at the witnesses and the whole proceedings."

VIREECK READY TO BEGIN FIGHT ON U. S. CHARGE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—

Counsel for George Sylvester Viereck today made plans for the defense of the Nazi propagandist as his federal district court trial was recessed until Monday.

Judicial conferences today and tomorrow and the week end holiday caused the trial to be put over until next week after the government closed its case and the defense had its first day in the packed courtroom.

From Defense Attorney Emil Morosini Jr., it was learned that subpoenas have been issued for Sen. Guffey (D) Pa., and former Sen. Holt (D) W. Va., to appear as witnesses for the German-born Viereck who is charged with failing to disclose complete details of his activities to the state department.

Other defense witnesses will include Rep. Day (D) Ill., whose anti-war book was published by Flanders Hall, a former Scotch Plains, N. J., publishing house which at Viereck's instructions printed booklets alleged to be translations of German propaganda.

The defense has also sent subpoenas to the heads of various government departments, including the state and treasury, summoning their records on Viereck.

And then there was the fugitive from justice who gave himself up for Lent.

SPANISH DENY GERMANS USING ATLANTIC BASE

MADRID, Feb. 26—The Spanish foreign ministry today left with the American republics a categorical denial that any Spanish military or naval bases, and specifically the Canary Islands, were used by German submarines in their warfare on the African coast.

In view of assertions in "the press of some American countries" that the Nazi U-boats were using Spanish ports as supply and repair centers, said the announcement, it was the Spanish government's duty "to deny in a most energetic manner any such insidious affirmations."

The Spanish government desired to "check from the very outset any campaign which may be organized concerning the matter," said the foreign ministry.

German submarines do not need bases in the Atlantic islands, said the announcement recalling that in 1916-18, German subs crossed the Atlantic and torpedoed several ships.

The foreign ministry invited foreign press correspondents to visit the Canary Islands and rectify the "absurdities which appeared in the press referred to."

Naturalists of the 15th century believed that in the head of a great old toad would be found a stone that was a sovereign medicine and antidote for poisons. That is what Shakespeare was referring to in "As You Like It," when he said: "A toad, ugly and venomous, wears yet a precious jewel in its head."

UNITED NATIONS CLAIM SUCCESS OVER BIG AREA

into a Japanese convoy in the far Pacific torpedoed two Japanese troop ships, one auxiliary vessel and a Jap freighter within the last two days. This was complemented by further offensive action by Dutch naval pilots who rained bombs on enemy supply depots on the island of Sumatra, directing their attacks at the port of Oosthaven and the terminus of the railway line running down from Palembang.

Americans Gain Victories
From terse official communications a thrilling story was pieced together in Washington today—the story of how American aviators are outfighting and outmaneuvering the Japs in fierce battles over the Dutch East Indies.

Batavia sent reassuring word that communications between the important bastion of Java and Australia are still functioning normally. And there was no doubt that outnumbered American sky fighters have contributed mightily in frustrating enemy efforts to pinch off this vital communication link.

Proof that American pilots have played a daring and important role in helping to stave off Jap invasion attempts against Java is contained in army communiqués revealing that since February 1 the Americans have shot down 38 bombers and fighter planes and have sunk several transports.

Last night the war department disclosed six American flying fortresses sank two large Jap transports off Macassar.

News from the Burma front was ominous. Reports to London said that British forces had put Rangoon, capital of Burma, to the torch and the Daily Express said Japanese troops were only 30 miles from the city.

Rangoon was described as an "inferno" as the British reportedly destroyed everything which might prove of value to the Japs should they succeed in entering the city.

More encouraging news came from Moscow regarding the great Soviet offensive, which is still playing havoc with the Nazi "winter front."

Latest dispatches from the Soviet capital said the Nazi stronghold of Rzhnev on the northwestern sector of the front has been cut

SPECIAL DEFENSE COURSES
PHILADELPHIA — Thousands of industrial workers are being given specialized training for defense fields in colleges and universities in the Philadelphia area. The University of Pennsylvania afforded such training to 5,000 workers during 1941, while the Drexel Institute of Technology reported that 3,000 persons were enrolled in such courses there last year.

NONE OR FIFTY?: DEBATE RAGING OVER JAP PLANE

fense command's own statement that the planes were not identified and that none was shot down.

Planes Seen By Some
Others, and these were more positive than the Knox adherents and possibly more numerous, lined up firmly behind the Army. There were planes over the city, they declared, for they saw them with their own eyes and heard the drone of their engines with their own ears.

In fact, one member of this camp, with eyes and ears keener than his fellow men, reported having seen between 35 and 50 planes, going over in "wave after wave."

That was the range today: from no planes to 50. Six deaths were attributed to the black-out and its accompanying barrage, three from traffic and three from heart attacks induced by excitement, but there was only one casualty from shell fragments. A Long Beach man suffered an eight-inch scalp wound from a shell which exploded near him.

Spring Conditioning that's TAILORED TO YOUR CAR!

Come in Now for a FREE Inspection by Authorized Factory-Trained Mechanics that Will Show Exactly what Attention YOUR Car Needs.

WANT LONGER TIRE LIFE? When switching tires, do you remember the spare? If you'll let us switch your tires, working the spare in where it can best be used, each tire out of the five you have will be on the road only four-fifths as much as usual. Net result: Longer life from the same full set.

GOOD BRAKES MEAN SAFETY PLUS. Brakes ought to be kept in proper adjustment for safety reasons alone. Beyond that, brakes that are "out" can also result in unnecessarily increased tire wear. For best results, let Buick men adjust your Buick brakes to Buick factory specifications.

Your whole car lasts longer when it is conditioned as a unit—especially when trained Buick specialists do the job.

So we write your spring conditioning ticket to fit your car's needs—not to make up a ready-made "package" according to average requirements.

The cost is no higher than for a comparably good job anywhere else. It's actually lower in the long run, because it pays to have a job done right.

Drop in for a FREE check-up by our authorized factory-trained mechanics and let us detail the service your car should have this spring.

LAWYERS AND JUDGES ASKED TO BAR CONFAB

Pickaway Countians Will Attend February 28 Convention

LANCASTER IS SCENE

Chester B. Wise, Lieutenant Governor Herbert On Day's Program

Pickaway county lawyers and judges have been invited to attend a regional meeting of the Ohio State Bar association to be held at the Hotel Lancaster in Lancaster on Saturday afternoon and evening, February 28.

The meeting is the fifth in a series being sponsored by the State Bar during the winter and spring. The purpose of the meetings is to discuss with lawyers throughout the state some of the important problems which concern the legal profession. Included in the meeting will be all members of the bench and bar in the counties of Fairfield, Hocking, Licking, Muskingum, Perry, Pickaway and Ross.

Principal speaker at the banquet session will be Attorney Chester B. Wise of Akron, president of the Ohio State Bar association. Widely known throughout the state as a trial lawyer and a speaker of unusual ability, attorney Wise will deliver an address on the subject "The Public Looks at the Lawyer".

The Lancaster regional meeting will open at 2 p. m. with a round-table discussion session. First speaker will be Lieutenant Governor Paul M. Herbert of Columbus, who will discuss the findings and objectives of the newly-created Ohio Administrative Law Commission, of which he is a member.

Other items on the afternoon program will be a discussion of public relations activities of state and local bar associations by Attorney William E. Knepper of Columbus, chairman of the Ohio State Bar association public relations committee, and a talk on the details of computing Federal income tax and filling out returns by Attorney Sanford I. Lakin of Columbus.

AUTOIST FINED AFTER ACCIDENT AT RTS. 138-22

Jacob Klar, 42, of Cincinnati, was fined $10 and costs by Justice of Peace B. T. Hedges, Wednesday, for failing to yield the right of way after his car was involved in an accident near Routes 138 and 22.

Klar's automobile came from a driveway on Route 22 in front of the approaching car of Jerome Conway, Sabina. Charges against Klar were filed by the highway patrol.

Only slight property damage resulted from the accident.

SECRET RUBBER DEAL

Little by little, a highly significant and secret picture of the disastrous rubber shortage is leaking out from high places. It shows that although Federal Loan Czar Jones was woefully short-sighted, he isn't the only one to blame for the dearth of tires and the "Jesse Jones Walking Clubs" which have become Washington's latest fad.

Additional dynamite was unearthed by the Truman Committee of the Senate and the House Military Affairs Committee last week which has Congressional eyes popping. It showed the ramifications of the giant deal between Standard Oil of New Jersey and I. G. Farbenindustrie of Germany to ban the use of the United States of patents for a certain process of manufacturing synthetic rubber.

As a result of this arrangement, Goodyear Rubber and Dow Chemical, which approached Standard Oil for use of these patents in 1934, were turned down. They did not know at the time—nor did anyone else—of Standard Oil's deal.

Meanwhile, Hitler was building up a tremendous stockpile of synthetic rubber in preparation for future war against the United States.

The inside story of this giant international deal goes back to a few years after the last war when Standard Oil of New Jersey was about to go into the chemical field. Simultaneously I. G. Farbenindustrie planned to go into oil.

DIVIDING THE WORLD

So, fearing each other's competition, they agreed to divide the world between them. Standard Oil wanted to dominate the world's gasoline business, especially synthetic gasoline; while I. G. Farben wanted to dominate the chemical field, especially synthetic rubber.

So after some years of dickerings, they formed a secret cartel in 1929, by which the German trust took over all chemical patents, including synthetic rubber, while Standard took over all of the oil patents, especially the patents on synthetic gasoline. One most important part of the agreement was that the Germans were permitted to make synthetic gasoline inside Germany, while Standard Oil was not permitted to make synthetic rubber inside the United States.

However, according to evidence placed before the Senate and House Committees, "The American cartel was so interested in relieving competition in their home market that they gave their home market away."

Evidence also has been unearthed showing that all of last summer and fall, when many people figured war with the Axis was just around the corner, Standard Oil continued to cooperate with the Germans to suppress the manufacture of synthetic rubber in the United States by these particular patents. Documents have even been found in Standard's files referring to the "Hitler Government," indicating that the "Hitler Government" was opposed to the development of synthetic rubber here.

Whether this was because Hitler even then was scheming to cut off our natural rubber supplies from the Dutch East Indies, is not known.

DIVIDING AFTER WAR

What is known, however, is that the two companies contemplated the possibility of war. For they wrote into their secret agreement the following provision:

"In the event the performance of these agreements or of any material provisions thereof by either party should be hereafter restrained... or be alienated to a substantial degree by operation of law or governmental authority, the parties should enter into new negotiations in the spirit of the present agreements, and endeavor to adapt their relations to the changed conditions which have so arisen."

Justice Department experts, called to testify before the Congressional committees, said they interpreted these "changed conditions" to mean war, and that Standard sought to dominate the synthetic market and I. G. Farben the synthetic rubber market after the war was over.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eye, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there's something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NOT FOR OURSELVES

THERE is a factor in the defense of Bataan that is no less important and admirable than the heroic behavior of General MacArthur and his American and Philippine troops. It is what might be called the "knight errantry" of our defense. Surely it is an unusual act of sportsmanship.

The United States, it should be remembered, has agreed to give the Filipinos their freedom. Concessions already made had put them half way on the road to independence before this war started. Their autonomy was to be complete about four years from now. There was no longer anything in the situation suggesting "exploitation" on our part. We had probably done for the islanders, on the whole, far more than they ever did, or could do, for us.

When this Far Eastern war began, and the Japanese attacked the Philippines as the first of all their major objectives, the easy way would have been for us to withdraw at once and let the Japs have the islands, rather than fight a long, hard war for them. We had much to gain by such procedure, and nothing to lose—save honor. We chose instantly to fight the Filipinos' war with them and for them, at whatever cost. We expect to win the war, restore their independence and then leave them with our blessing.

There is every indication that the Filipinos understand this and are grateful. Our enemies, of course, would never understand it.

RUSSIAN WINTERS

RUSSIAN winter campaigning is nothing new for the Germans. Some of the comments suggest that it is, that they had every reason to be surprised at the terrible extreme of cold and ice that they met. They had no occasion to be astonished. In the first world war they had plenty of winter fighting with the Russians.

On January 31, 1915, the Germans deliberately launched a campaign in East Prussia at a time when, as Churchill wrote in his history of the war on the Eastern front, "the idea that any great operations could begin in such fearful wintry weather was scouted by the Russians' experience of their own climate." For three weeks the Germans fought steadily, captured 110,000 prisoners and killed 100,000 more, under conditions that horrified even Hindenburg. He said:

"The name of the 'Winter Battle' charms like an icy wind or the silence of death. As men look back they will ask themselves 'Have earthly beings really done these things, or is it all but a fable?'"

Up to a fine morning even though it was somewhat on the nippy side. Noted long streamers of frozen sap hanging from the big maple tree and listened to a red bird and robin singing about something. Certainly Spring is not too far away. Read the morning prints and found therein nothing particularly encouraging except from the Russian front. Headed, then, for the post, there passing the time of day with Charlie Mack and receiving a magazine from Dr. Shane who had just received two of one kind in his mail.

If the reaction is unfavorable nothing at all

As with the senior organization the young men will learn that while there are many who enjoy talking there are few who will actually work, and work is essential to any successful enterprise.

HELPING MacARTHUR

WASHINGTON — By an odd twist of fate, General MacArthur is getting supplies today from a man whose ambition to become Assistant Secretary of War nine years ago was squelched by MacArthur.

The man in question is Carroll Cone of Pan American Airways. Cone comes from Arkansas. So does MacArthur. When MacArthur was Chief of Staff, Cone was in Washington with the Commerce Department's aviation bureau, sought to become Assistant Secretary of War for air.

The job was vacant, and Cone had the support of the late Senator Joe Robinson of Arkansas and other potent figures. However, MacArthur sat on the idea. He wasn't keen about the air arm of the army at that time and abolished the job of an assistant secretary who would devote all his time to promoting the Air Corps.

For eight years the Army was without an air executive—revived only a year ago when Secretary Stimson appointed Robert A. Lovett as Assistant Secretary of War for air.

Today, as a Pan American Airways official, it is Cone's job to transport supplies by a circuitous and secret route to the Bataan peninsula. And they are getting there.

For years U. S. Army war plans provided that in case of a Japanese attack on the Philippines, U. S. forces there would have to be abandoned. However, thanks to long range transport planes and Cone's efficiency, supplies are definitely reaching the Philippines.

FUTURE KING AT CIRCUS

When the circus came to town last week, one of the most excited fans was a ruddy-cheeked five-year-old youngster who may one day become a king. He was Harald of Norway, son of Crown Prince Olav and Princess Martha, and residents of Washington "for the duration."

When he got home from the circus, he made funny faces to show his sisters what the clown was like, and slid on the rugs to work up a spark to shock them with.

Harald is not being "trained for the kingship," but to be a normal, healthy boy. He will not be the next King of Norway, because it is his father who is Crown Prince. And if the Germans have their way, a new monarchy will be established and the present royal family dethroned.

Harald lives on a country estate ten miles out of Washington where the President sometimes has been a visitor. Known as "Pook's Hill," the home has recently been enlarged so that when the Crown Prince comes to visit the Crown Princess, there will be living quarters for the

Are not these marches in the winter nights, that camp in the icy snowstorm and that last phase of the battle in the forest, but the creation of an inspired human fancy?"

Method of Local Action Of Various Medicines

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

IN THE articles this week we have been discussing the scientific foundation for the action of drugs after they have been absorbed in the body. They act either on the nervous system or by changing blood flow.

There is another great class of drugs which act locally at the site of the spot of application. Of course most skin remedies act this way, but we will discuss those next week.

When Dr. Carl Koller, lately practicing in New York, was assistant in the eye clinic in Vienna in 1884, he discovered that cocaine dropped in the eye would entirely abolish pain on the surface, so that operations could be performed as well as if a general anesthetic were given.

The introduction of local anesthesia was a great step forward in medical practice. We have since then manufactured many better drugs than cocaine for such purposes.

Locally Applied Drugs We also have drugs which are antiseptic or germicidal when applied locally. They kill germs or inhibit germ growth within certain limits. Other locally applied drugs promote healing.

Of especial interest just at this season is the use of drugs which are applied locally to the nose and throat for relief of colds, sore throats and rhinitis.

The best of all, if you are brave enough, is silver nitrate. When applied locally in solution, it certainly makes you uncomfortable in an hour or so, but it is the only thing I know of which really does tend to shorten a cold or sore throat and return the nose and throat to normal. Only your doctor should undertake to apply it, but he will probably warn you first that you won't like it.

For that stopped-up feeling, we have several kinds of solutions—adrenalin, ephedrine and benzedrine—which shrink the mucous membrane of the nose at least temporarily and allow you to breathe freely.

For a gargle or nose douche for a normal nose, the safest thing is hot salt water. Nearly anything else is likely to depress the antiseptic powers of the mucous membrane of the nose and throat.

Sodium perborate is practically harmless and has been used successfully for generations in mild infections and clogged up noses. It dissolves in water with a slight effervescence and should be used at

For Friday—700 calories

(Efficient, balanced, satisfying)

Breakfast, 1 slice orange (roughage, Vitamin C—75 calories); 1 slice toast—no butter (75 calories); 1 boiled egg (75 calories); 1 cup coffee—no cream or sugar.

Lunch, Oyster stew—made with milk, no butter (170 calories); 2 saltine crackers (50 calories); 1 stalk celery; ½ cup cole slaw on lettuce (no oil other than Mineral oil in dressing—roughage); 1 cup tea—no cream or sugar.

Dinner, 1 cup clear vegetable soup; average helping of broiled or boiled fish (150 calories—Vitamin B); 1 small or ½ baked potato—no butter (100 calories, Vitamins A, B, C, and G); small helping gelatin dessert; 1 cup coffee—no cream or sugar.

once. It dissolves mucous and is hence a cleanser of secretions and gives off oxygen which helps to inhibit germ growth. The simpler form of sodium borate solution is famous as Dobell's solution.

The best of gargles can be obtained inexpensively at the drug store if instead of asking for trade names you can call for liquor antiseptics which contain boric acid, thymol, eucalyptus and other aromatic oils.

A solution of 2% boric acid is a household standby for washing the eyes after a tiring day of exposure.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

P. G. I.—"Please explain to me how a metabolism test is made and what a test of this nature would determine."

Answer: A metabolism test measures the amount of oxygen an individual consumes per minute. It is performed by a very simple apparatus in which all the air breathed in and out is measured over a period of fifteen minutes to half an hour. The most useful information obtained in this way concerns the activity of the thyroid gland, i.e., whether there is an active goiter or not.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendenning has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendenning, in care of this paper. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

SYNOPSIS

ANETTE WINSLOW, 17, beautiful, and aspiring to fame on the stage, is introduced to the telephone company, and to LAURENCE PEYTON, top-ranking actor, and to AUGUST DRAKE, Peyton's leading lady, by DR. WALTER KIRKWOOD, struggling young M. D.

YESTERDAY: Larry takes Anette to a tea dance given by Helress Lois Lyndon, and there meets Lois' brother, Jimmy. Larry snips a lock of her hair to keep as they leave the dance in a taxi.

CHAPTER FOUR

GLOWING descriptive folders exploiting the students' club where Anette lived failed to mention that "telephone service" was a buzzing signal which meant a long walk through a hallway to an offensive public extension. Small town dormitory life was the Four Arts club, in spite of a parlor maid and a baby grand piano.

Dressed in a crimson velvet housecoat and matching flat-heeled mules, Anette raced to the third-floor wall instrument, despoiling the open doors of the curious and the still more curious girls who found excuses to loiter nearby. As she lifted the receiver with her left hand, she took hold tightly of the wire with her right to keep it from shaking.

"Hello?" she managed breathlessly.

"Hello, there! This is Jimmy Lyndon. How about lunch?"

Her heart felt right back into place. Or not! It felt much lower. Not even to notice eavesdroppers could she put animation into her voice. "I'm sorry," she refused with flat disinterest. "but I have a luncheon engagement."

"Dinner then?"

The girl's right hand, completely steady now, released the twisted telephone cord. "I think I'll be busy for dinner, too." With coffee and toasted sandwiches, very likely, she thought and smiled.

"Then you name it!" As she ventured a refusal, he broke in with a friendly chuckle. "Now look here, I have to go to New York the last of the week and from there to Bermuda. I'll be gone fully a month and I want to see you before I leave Chicago. So, again I say, you name it." Nevertheless, before she could answer he went on, "I'm sorry about lunch. I thought we might horn in on Lois. She is entertaining August Drake and your friend Peyton."

For an instant Anette wondered how she possibly could speak through the dryness in her mouth. And then, though cottony and completely lifeless, the words came out in a rush. "My date isn't terribly important. I'll cancel it and go with you. But I dare not be late for my lesson again today. I must be there at 3 o'clock."

"I'll see that you are. Be ready at 12:30. Lois' luncheon is at one."

Soon after James Lyndon had rung off, his sister's crisp little mechanical invitation came over the wire. And then another call, the costumer reporting her calico frock ready for the Wednesday performance. In response to both messages, Anette dashed through the hallway with the same hopeful eagerness she had felt for the first one, only to experience the same disappointment.

Sharply she rebuked herself. Why had she been so trustingly certain Laurence Peyton would telephone her for lunch? Why so trustingly certain he would telephone her at all? He wasn't duty-bound simply because they had enjoyed a wonderful afternoon the previous day. But, oh, she pleaded inwardly, with a moan that actually was silent, yet roared in her ears, please let the telephone ring and please let it be Larry.

Two hours later she sat eating avocado and orange salad and salty little wafers, while others at the table did the talking. Not that she was enjoying her lunch. She was too miserable. She ached with misery. I feel as if I'd swallowed a porcupine, she thought to herself. Slowly she lifted topaz eyes toward Larry, who sat across the table from her, between his hostess and August Drake. He seemed entirely unperturbed by the young girl's presence, still as unaffected as he had been when he first saw her among the guests.

As she watched, some remark of Lois' brought a wide smile to his handsome face, and his eyes sparkled. Encouraged, the debutante put up a slim hand and gave him a quick, childish pat on the cheek.

Lyndon criticized softly. "I don't see why my sister doesn't let up on Peyton. She ran him ragged in New York, then trailed him to Chicago. I suppose she'll stay here until the show closes." He laughed in an embarrassed manner. "And she gets absolutely nowhere. She should realize she can't best August Drake."

Anette did not answer. But she looked at Lois Lyndon, bare-headed, with pale blond hair nestling above the pink collar of her navy blue velvet suit, and was jealous. Her eyes shifted to August, dynamic and magnetic in rust wool, a tiny green hat perched atop red curls, and though she knew the cascading waves were to soften a droopy jaw-line and a too-pointed chin, she was jealous of August also.

In fact, the violence of her jealousy frightened her and made her ashamed. No good, all that stern advice from her grandmother, all those embroidered mottoes that had all but covered bedroom walls. Be maidenly. Be sweet-tempered. Softly insulting, such warnings, when what she wanted to do was scream and throw the dishes.

Lyndon was talking again. "Lois is like a thrilled kid entertaining these actors and having everyone stare. Of course she would much prefer a tete-a-tete luncheon with Peyton, but that is a little hard to manage. August does have a way about her, you know. And what a way!"

The girl at his side nodded and smiled faintly. "I think I know what you mean."

"Of course I respect the professional admiration between August and Peyton, but my sister will make a fool of herself over a concealed actor—oh, say now!" he exclaimed, as Anette's features changed from pure white to pink. "forgive me if I've tramped on your toes." His clear blue eyes were filled with concern. "I thought you and our matinee idol were just casual friends."

"We are just casual friends," came her clipped agreement, as her eyes returned to James Lyndon's, after a purely impersonal encounter with Larry's. Why, they were strangers. Anette's heart shivered and as quickly began to soar until it felt like a glistering plane in brilliant summer sunshine.

Still wearing that impersonal disinterested mask, Larry was talking to his hostess. "Lois, this is a mighty fine lunch. I'll remember it when I'm having my rabbit sandwich before the show."

"Rabbit sandwich?" the blond girl echoed.

Rapidly Laurence Peyton explained his meager diet. "It's a daily event. Same food, same place, same hour, same girl."

Lois leaned back of him to stare at August Drake. "Not me!" August denied with graceful disdain, although her heavily tinted face was puzzled.

Larry doily switched the conversation as he supplied meaningfully, "She is busy with other things at that time of day."

His insinuation forced visions of herself at that hour, masked and chin-strapped, into the red-haired woman's mind. Instinctively she lowered her face into the veils about her throat, and breathed thanks that a newspaper photographer, armed with camera, suddenly provided a rescue from her taunting leading man.

Pleasing brightened Lois' face as she realized the paper would carry proof of her chummy friendship with the stars of "Orchids Can Choke You." She leaned even closer to Larry. He also was pleased. August put on the careful prop smile that wouldn't nip wrinkles into the corners of her eyes. No one would dream she had coerced their press agent. "Have him there before I've eaten my face completely out of shape," she had instructed him. "Lunch with the Lyndons should land us on the society page instead of the theatrical."

On Wednesday at the matinee performance, Anette stood near a spiral staircase in backstage gloom and knew she had been none too good in her first scene. Verazaan was standing beside her, instructing her. He moved away and immediately returned. Or so she thought. Instead, it was Laurence Peyton who, without a word of greeting, opened his hand beneath her startled gaze.

"Look!" In the dim light she saw three locks of hair. Red, blond, black. August's, Lois', her own. Larry bragged. "I'm making a collection. All I need now is a gray and white."

For what seemed a tormented century Anette just stared. It wasn't entirely the three curls. The lock-of-hair idea had been ridiculous all along. It was the long wait in the sandwich place that afternoon when he hadn't even arrived. It was his telephone call the ensuing day, friendly and explanatory, but scarcely apologetic. It was the two frightful days after that when he hadn't telephoned at all. It was the ridiculous mourning over the newspaper picture because he looked so completely happy with his partner and Lois Lyndon, and because she herself looked so plain beside the sober-faced James Lyndon. It was all those things, suddenly encircled by three locks of hair, and made more detestable because he now seemed so provokingly unaware of wrongdoing.

She dragged her gaze from Larry's palm and inquired in strangled, childish sarcasm, "Are you stuffing a sofa?" Her eyeballs felt like marble slabs. Actually they were soft beneath uncontrollable tears.

She realized with sick helplessness, "I'm crying—my makeup—I must not cry!" And while she stood there, beneath Larry's strange smile, her teeth clamped, hands tightened into fists, neck and spine rigid, fighting her emotion, trying to ignore the tears that persistently rolled down her cheeks, a second thought raced to her. "But I must cry. I'm supposed to cry. This is it!"

She walked onto the stage, shoulders bent beneath the burden of her heartbroken sobs.

Words of Wisdom

When I gaze into the stars, they look down upon me with pity from their serene and silent spaces, like eyes glistening with tears over the little lot of man. Thousands of generations, all as noisy as our own, have been swallowed up by time, and there remains no record of them any more. Yet Arcturus and Orion, Sirius and Pleiades, are still shining in their courses, clear and young, as when the shepherd first noted them in the plain of Shinar.

Hints on Etiquette

It would be much more polite if women attending moving picture shows would always remove their hats. Even a small hat, if it has a feather or flowers, is likely to shut off some of the view of the person in front of her.

Today's Horoscope

Do not let yourself be careless or imprudent on excessive pleasures during the next year if this is your birthday. If you heed this warning you will advance and gain much. Seek to expand your business and prospects. You are extremely sensitive to praise and blame, are timid and reticent in the company of others, and careful and precise in everything you do. Overcome your timidity and have faith in yourself. ## Strehles Honored Guests As 70 Gather for Party

Newlyweds Receive Many Gifts From Friends

Complimenting Mr. and Mrs. William E. Strehle, who were married during the holidays, about 70 relatives and friends gathered Wednesday for a delightful party and miscellaneous shower at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Pontius, Pickaway township. Mrs. Strehle is the former Eleanor Pontius. Members of the Morris chapel congregation were included in the guest group.

Late in the evening the many and useful gifts from the shower were arranged in pink and white boxes and opened by the bride and groom.

Refreshments, continuing the color theme of pink and white, were served by Mrs. Pontius assisted by her daughter, Miss Helen Pontius.

Present were Mrs. V. D. Kerns, Mrs. Jennie Boden, Mr. and Mrs. Durbin Allen, Mr. and Mrs. David W. Glick, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pontius and daughter, Barbara, of the Circleville community; Mr. and Mrs. Roy England, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Morris and family, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Musselman, Mr. and Mrs. Russell England, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Lane, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Pontius and son, Victor, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Musselman and daughter, Connie, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Dunkle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Drake and daughter, Mary Ann, Bruce Valentine, Mrs. George Poling, Mrs. Eva Musselman, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Anderson, Mrs. Newton Kerns, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Anderson, Miss Virginia Strawser, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Arledge, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Arledge and family, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Valentine and daughter, Eloise, Harley Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Allen and family of Pickaway township; Mr. and Mrs. W. # Fund To Fight Paralysis, Relieve Sufferers Shows Balance

LOCAL SOCIETY BUYS CRUTCHES, PROVIDES CARE

President's Ball Helps In Pickaway Campaign; $141 Profit Reported

OTHER PROGRAMS HELP

Postal Employees, Athletes, Schools Join In Big Community Effort

Funds in the treasury of the Pickaway county chapter, National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, are larger than ever before and total receipts this year are twice as large as those of last year, according to a report from Robert Colville, treasurer of the Pickaway county chapter.

Net balance received by the local chapter this year through its dance and campaign was $403.35. Pickaway county retains half of this amount. The other half, $201.67, will be mailed to the National Foundation headquarters in New York, Treasurer Colville said.

Net receipts from the President's ball this year were $141.45 total receipts amounting to $245.59 and expenditures to $104.14. Receipts included tickets to the dance, $151.50; bingo, $37.70; fortune teller, $18.75; check room, $20.14 and lunch $18. Employees of the postoffice department collected a total of $105 from the coin cards which they distributed during the campaign. A benefit basketball game, sponsored by the Scioto township team, netted $11.45 and other donations to $1.15.

Schools contributed a total of $91.39 to the campaign, with city schools share amounting to $23.61 and the remaining amount being donated by the county schools. The safe placed on the corner of Main and Court streets collected $22.62, and special donations amounted to $7, making total collections $309.99. Total expenditures amounted to $106.64.

Funds retained locally will be used by the local chapter for the purchase of crutches or other equipment or to furnish special medical care for victims of infantile paralysis. Assistance by the local chapter includes providing orthopedic equipment and training, and financial assistance for payment of hospital expenses for patients in need of that care. During epidemics the volunteer workers not only aid those stricken by the disease but also work with doctors and public health officials.
